

Go Short Festival 2025

The short film festival features the participation of Spanish directors Gabriela Isabel Gómez de Arteché Núñez, co-director of “An Awesome Flat,” and Virginia Rita Luengo, director of “I Believe in Much More Than Magic.”

The short film festival takes place from April 1 to 6, featuring screenings, awards, workshops, panels, and networking opportunities for filmmakers, professionals, and the public. Some of the latest productions in the European scene will be screened, and the annual awards will be presented. The program will also feature workshops, panels, and meetings focused on the film industry, along with opportunities for networking, speed dating, and debates about the sector.

Throughout the year, the festival develops educational activities, offering programs for children and young people to learn audiovisual language through screenings and workshops. It organizes meetings with filmmakers and shares information through its professional newsletter to support training and development in the industry.

Spanish directors Gabriela Isabel Gómez de Arteché Núñez, co-director of An Awesome Flat, and Virginia Rita Luengo, director of I Believe in Much More Than Magic, will participate in the New Arrivals section.
